13	to enforce the '087 patent.
14	119. Under all the circumstances in this dispute, IV has, at a minimum, created a
15	substantial, immediate, and real controversy between the parties as to whether IV has standing to
16	enforce the '087 patent. A valid and justiciable controversy has arisen and exists between
17	Plaintiff and IV within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 2201.
18	120. A judicial declaration that IV lacks standing to enforce the '087 patent is necessary
19	and appropriate in order to resolve this controversy.
20	NINETEENTH COUNT
21	(Declaratory Judgment of Non-Infringement of the '646 Patent)
22	121. The allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 120 are incorporated by
23	reference as if fully set herein.
24	122. IV claims to be the owner and assignee of all rights, title, and interest in and under
25	the '646 patent.
26	123. IV has accused Plaintiff of infringing the '646 patent through its manufacture, sale
27	use, and/or importation of certain software products, and has asserted that Plaintiff must take a license to the '646 patent to lawfully continue the manufacture, sale, use, and/or importation of these software products.
28

- 124. Plaintiff has informed IV that Plaintiff contends that it has the right to be engaged in the manufacture, sale, use, and/or importation of these software products without a license to the '646 patent.
- 125. Under all the circumstances in this dispute, IV has, at a minimum, created a substantial, immediate, and real controversy between the parties as to the non-infringement of the '646 patent. A valid and justiciable controversy has arisen and exists between Plaintiff and IV within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 2201.
- 126. Upon information and belief, Plaintiff has not directly or indirectly infringed any valid and enforceable claims of the '646 patent, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents.
- 127. A judicial declaration of non-infringement of the '646 patent is necessary and appropriate in order to resolve this controversy.

TWENTIETH COUNT

(Declaratory Judgment of Invalidity of the '646 Patent)

- 128. The allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 127 are incorporated by reference as if fully set herein.
- 129. Under all the circumstances in this dispute, IV has, at a minimum, created a substantial, immediate, and real controversy between the parties as to the invalidity of the '646 patent. A valid and justiciable controversy has arisen and exists between Plaintiff and IV within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 2201.
- 130. Upon information and belief, the '646 patent is invalid because of its failure to comply with one or more of the requirements of the patent laws of the United States, including, without limitation, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103, and/or 112.
- 131. A judicial declaration of invalidity of the '646 patent is necessary and appropriate in order to resolve this controversy.
